DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.

ROSSER & McCARTHY,
Proprietors.

FRIDAY EVENING, AUG. 27, 1896.

The Woodford County Democrats have endorsed Congressman Breckinridge.

UNITED STATES MARSHAL GROSS has forwarded his resignation to Washington. He couldn't agree with Judge Barr, and gave up his position.

BLAINE'S voice is again heard in the land. He is whooping things up for the "lost cause" in Maine—the "cause" that was lost two years ago.

SOME of the newspapers are "boozing" Hon. John D. Harris, of Madison County, Governor. To be brief, let 'em "boom." The fight is several months ahead of us yet.

BORN the Democrats and Republicans in Lewis County, think that Judge Wall is the strongest Democratic candidate for Congress. If he can get the nomination he will win.—Mt. Olivet Democrat.

JOHN G. ROBISON, of Lexington, has been appointed Deputy United States Marshal. He is a brother of Hugh Rodgers, and is engaged in running down the moonshiners in the mountain districts where the assassination of his brother was attempted last fall.

THE showing made by the new Ninth Judicial district is not so bad for the Democrats after all. Marr (Democrat) was elected Commonwealth's Attorney by over five hundred majority at the late election. The Republicans elect the Judge by only one hundred majority.

GENERAL WADSWORTH having declined to run again for Congress, the Republican chances for re-selecting a Representative from the Maysville district are lessened. He is perhaps the ablest man his party has in the district and the strongest before the people, and yet his majority two years ago was only 102. * * *—Louisville Commercial.

A CONTENT is in progress over the election of a Circuit Judge in the Seventh district. The official count gave Carr (Republican) four majority, but a mistake of eight votes has been discovered in one county which will elect Leslie (Democrat) by four votes. The master is in the hands of the Central Committee at Frankfort, and both sides will hear next week.

TREND of Hon. W. H. Wadsworth to become a candidate for re-election to Congress will give rise to much speculation as to the result of the coming Republican convention. "Who will they nominate now?" is heard frequently on the streets since Mr. Wadsworth's card was published. No one knows, of course, but there is a good deal of guessing going on. Had Mr. Wadsworth thought the coming contest an easy one, he, no doubt, would have sought and would have secured a re-nomination at the hands of his party. He is, by far, the ablest Republican in the district. His decision to return to the practice of his profession opens the field to the other aspirants. Of these, Hon. D. J. Burnett, of Lawrence County, and Hon. W. J. Worthington, of Greenup, have been frequently mentioned in the eastern part of the district. The knowing ones, however, say that Hon. George M. Thomas, of Lewis, is the strong man. If these three should be the only candidates Thomas will almost certainly be the nominee. Burnett and Worthington would divide the vote of the upper counties, and Thomas would have an easy time of it. But there are others who are spoken of, and if they should enter the field the contest will be interesting to the finish.

EX-CONGRESSMAN W. W. CULBERTSON's friends think he was mistreated two years ago, and want to see the wrong righted. The claim is made, we understand, that Mr. Wadsworth and his followers are under promise to help Culbertson out this time in consideration of his holding off two years ago. If this be true, it will complicate matters decidedly, provided all the gentlemen named should be placed before the convention.

Again, there is a strong probability of there being several dark horses. Hon. John M. Burns, who was recently elected Circuit Judge in the Oglethorpe district by such a big majority, would likely jump at the nomination if held out to him. Another gentleman, whose name we hear mentioned of late in connection with the contest, is our own fellow citizen, ex-Mayor Horace January. If the district is to be represented by a Republican this time, which we doubt considerably, we'd rather see it done by Mr. January than by any of the aspirants from the otherend of the district. The conventions, however, are not far off now, and it will not be long before the nominees will be named on both sides. And then the fun will begin.

THE VOODOO WOMAN.

CROONING, IN HER CABIN, A STRANGE, UNCANNY TUNE.

The Mere Anatomy of a Woman,
Nearly 100 Years Old—A Young Negro
Who Imagines He Has Been "Conjured"—Fee and Prescription.

A mile to the left of the plantation a little stream runs lazily through the woods. The water is black and uninviting, the whole place sombre and damp. On the brink of this branch a little hut had perchance been broken off two feet below the level of the roof. This is the mansion of Aunt Polly, the voodoo woman. As late as it is, there is smoke rising out of the chimney, and eager eyes of air make weird music among the rotting shingles.

Whatever cooking is being done the aroma is not very savory, but like the curious commingling of a ward caucus and an emigrant camp.

A light wood fire is smoldering in the open fireplace. Over it hangs a sooty, greasy kettle. The perfume comes from that. Crouching over it is Aunt Polly, crooning to herself a strange, uncanny tune. She is nearly or quite blind, but her large, deepest eyes glaze with the lurid fire of malice. Her skinny hands are clasped about her knees as she rocks herself to and fro, or peers into the rancid decoration she is cooking. She has come a long way, this voodoo, over an inch out of her mouth, and her straggling wool is long and very white. In a pan by her side are herbs and roots, part of a snake and a rabbit's head.

He is shuffling along the path leading to the cabin a shuffling, trembling figure. Awe-struck and yet resolute, it halts about fifty feet away, strikes a match and looks at its large brass watch. It is a young negro from the plantation, who imagines that he has been conjured. He is dressed in a suit of clothes to $3.00, which assures him that it is now midnight, the time appointed for him to meet the voodoo.

THREE DOLLARS WORTH.

He strides bravely forward and knocks at the door.

"Come in."

As he enters a large gray owl snaps viciously at him from a perch above the door.

Aunt Polly glances at him savagely, then says: "Hush!—Don't kumjuf!—Dey all come to Aunt Polly!" Aunt Polly kin kill Aunt Polly kin save! Kunjuf'd, an' dat gal pizone, ergin him," and she gives a long, cackling laugh.

"Honey, take de smot' bottle and berry hit right in de paib off de nigger what kumjan you. When he break it, den do kunjuf goes."

You drink han'fuls, den big bottle you got to have an unbending heart. Keep de foot in yer pocket, twell der spell an often you, den han' hit af'now de sahde again do ob do ob gaf's bedroom. Dat's gwinter make her lab you, mo' an you gwine meerry ha' year wear. Aunt Polly, she kin kill han' kin save! Day all come to Aunt Polly—no go long."

The young man gives it to her, she clutches it in her dirty claw-like hands, and hobbles to a little cupboard, she takes out a rabbit foot and two bottles, one much smaller than the other, and drops them with a bang in a crackled old lamp. Handing them to him, she says:

"Honey, take de smot' bottle and berry hit right in de paib off de nigger what kumjan you. When he break it, den do kunjuf goes."

You drink han'fuls, den big bottle you got to have an unbending heart. Keep de foot in yer pocket, twell der spell an often you, den han' hit af'now de sahde again do ob do ob gaf's bedroom. Dat's gwinter make her lab you, mo' an you gwine meerry ha' year wear. Aunt Polly, she kin kill han' kin save! Day all come to Aunt Polly—no go long."

The young man waits for no second bidding, but is off like the wind, happy and exultant.—Hamilton Jay in The Detroit Free Press.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

Exercise Held in Memory of Benjamin Franklin Randolph.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 27.—The memorial services of Benjamin Franklin Randolph, the leader of the Republicans of South Carolina, from the close of the war to the day of his death, were held yesterday afternoon at Columbia.

He was considered a martyr to the Republican cause when he was shot and killed upon the platform of a railroad coach at Hodge, while traveling in the interest of his organization.

Exercise Held in Memory of Benjamin Franklin Randolph.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 27.—The memorial services of Benjamin Franklin Randolph, the leader of the Republicans of South Carolina, from the close of the war to the day of his death, were held yesterday afternoon at Columbia.

He was considered a martyr to the Republican cause when he was shot and killed upon the platform of a railroad coach at Hodge, while traveling in the interest of his organization.

From that day to this the names of those who killed him have never been known, but your correspondent has learned that both of them are still living in Columbia.

Despite the large reward now offered by Governor Scott they have never been arrested, and in their memorial address no demand was made for their arrest.

Planned for Selling Adulterated Butter.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Before Justice Kistler, Lindsborg & Freisberg, who keep a grocery at Townsend and Oak streets, were fined $35 for selling adulterated butter.

It is claimed by the chemists representing the present prosecutions are instigated by the dairy and butter men to boom the butter interests and that many manufacturers have been led to adulterate butter to less than 15 per cent. Inspector Howe says that all dealers in oleomargarine and butter will be persistently and vigorously prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

A Desperado at Large.

A special from Flemingsburg says: "At Grange City, in the eastern part of Fleming County, last Monday, Charles Robertson struck Frank Cashman over the head with a piece of plank, Cashman being seriously injured. Robertson was tried at Grange City Wednesday before a Magistrate, and fined $50 and sent to jail fifty days. Immediately after the trial Robertson asked the officer, in whose charge he was, to go to his home with him. When he reached home, Robertson picked up a Winchester rifle and ordered the officer to leave. He swore he would never be taken alive, and is yet at large. Robertson was defended by L. J. Moore, and prosecuted by G. A. Cassidy, of this city. To Moore, Robertson said that Cassidy had abused him in his speech, while prosecuting him, and that he would get even with him for it. When Moore and Cassidy started home they saw Robertson cross the turnpike a short distance ahead of them, and hid behind a tree. They returned to Grange City, where Cassidy procured a double-barreled shotgun, loaded it with buck-shot and again started home, but was not molested. Robertson is a dangerous man, and has threatened to kill several of the citizens of Grange City before he is taken. The Magistrate before whom he was tried raised a posse, went to his house and demanded his surrender, but he has not yet been captured. Robertson killed the father of Craig Tolliver, of Rowan County notoriety, several years ago. G. A. Cassidy was the attorney of Cook Humphrey, and was employed to prosecute Tolliver at the last term of the Rowan Circuit Court."

THERE are ninety Commonwealth cases on the docket of the Greenup circuit court now in session—most of them for petty offenses. The equity docket contains one hundred and twenty cases, of which fifteen only are appearances, while on the common law docket there are but thirty suits, twelve of them being appearances.

SAYS the Portsmouth Tribune: "Both a few miles above and below Springville, Ky., large forces of men and teams are at work on the South Side railway, while a little ground was broken Monday opposite the saw mill. The contractors say that as there is so little grading to be done opposite Portsmouth, this part of the work will be delayed till the last, and that ere the Kentucky hills receive their first coating of snow, the whistle of the locomotive will be heard in Springville."

THESE are a move on foot among the merchants at Cincinnati to-day, after a delightful visit to Mrs. C. B. Pearce.

The New "General Grant" Postage Stamp.

The Postmaster-General is introducing for sale at the principal post-offices of the United States letter sheet envelope, a unique device for correspondence through the mails. It is a combination in one of a letter sheet, envelope and the new postage stamp of the denomination of two cents, bearing the military portrait of General Grant. They will be sold at the rate of twenty-three dollars per thousand, in any desired quantities, separately or in packages or pads of 25, 50, or 100 each, or folded in enclosed packages of 25 each, especially adapted for use when traveling.

"Karl, the Peddler."

CHARLES A. GARDNER, the clever comedian, will appear at the opera house next Friday evening, September 3rd, in "Karl, the Peddler," and will certainly be welcomed by a crowded house. On his last appearance here a year or so ago, standing room was in demand, if we mistake not. We clip the following concerning this comedian from an exchange of Evansville:

"Charles A. Gardner and his excellent company performed before a crowded house at the Apollo last evening. The audience was more than delighted with the entertainment and generous applause was frequent throughout the evening. This is Mr. Gardner's last season here in this play, and none should miss the opportunity of seeing him before the close of the week."

The "South Share."

"Give me some news, Eugene Zimmerman."

"Have none."

"Then give me some chestnuts."

"Ha! ha! Guess you have me there. Well, what can I tell you?"

"The new road to Mayville."

"Well, it's being built as rapidly as possible. There are 2,500 men at work on it now and before this time next summer the trains will be running over it."

"By the way, what is your principal object in building the road?"

"We have several good reasons for building it. It will enable us to shorten time on through business, and will give us a good float freight and passenger trade. It will pass through a fertile and populous country, and it will be good paying road from the beginning."—Cincinnati Times-Star.

Looks Like Business.

A special from Hillsboro, O., Aug. 12th, says:

"The contract between the Columbus and Mayville Railroad Company and Messrs. Freeland & Mackin, of Pittsburgh, for building the road from this city to Ripley via Sardinia and Georgetown, was signed to-day, the requirements of the parties having been obtained and guaranteed. The road is to be a standard gauge, steel rail, and to be completed from Hillsboro to Ripley by January 1st, next. There is also a provisional agreement for extending the road to Mayville, running through Sardinia and Georgetown, and, extending the road north of that point, either to Washington C. H. or some other point to be determined. The contractors have a large force of men here, and will commence work next Monday. They first change the division between Hillsboro and Georgetown, and then begin to lay the rails running to Georgetown in ninety days, the grading and bridging being already finished or nearly so between Sardinia and Georgetown."

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

THE CZAR'S ORDERS TO THE ABSENT RULER OF BULGARIA.

Great Enthusiasm Over the Downfall of the Provisional Government Appointed by the Conspirators—Alexander's Government Recognized by the Powers.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—A dispatch from Ren states that the czar has ordered Prince Alexander to be forwarded to Kissevo if he does not adhere to the terms of abdication which, it is claimed, he has signed. Other dispatches say there is great enthusiasm throughout Bulgaria over the downfall of the provisional government appointed by the conspirators. The news of the coup on the deposition of Prince Alexander, and the overthrow of the conspirators. Numerous towns are gaily decorated with flags and bunting, and there is general rejoicing among the people.

Affairs at Belfast.

BELFAST, Aug. 27.—Since the beginning of the rioting the police have been withdrawn from the protestant districts in Belfast. As attempts were made to repossess the national road, a mob attacked them with stones and the police charged the crowd, but were unable to disperse them. The rioters made a second attack upon the police and drove them from the ground, seriously wounding several of the police, dispersed the mob and arrested six of the leaders.

The city is now quiet and the only evidence of the rioting is the numerous broken windows and shattered stones with which the streets are strewn. The Rev. Dr. Kane, the grand master of the Orange Grand Lodge of this city declares that the magistrates are criminally derelict in their duty in parleying with the lawless mob.

Alexander's Government Recognized.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The latest dispatches from Berlin with regard to the movement in which Prince Alexander was involved, say that it was effected by a single regiment of military cadets, who also arrested the commander of the Alexander regiment, who was at Silivriat at the time. The present government, consisting of men who were favored by Prince Alexander, resigned and liberated the commander of the Alexander regiment, who, upon regaining his liberty at once arrested the leaders of the conspiracy. The powers have recognized the Karadjoff government, which is in full control.

Death of Mr. Farnell.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—An urgent wire has been issued by the government for the attendance of all the Conservative members of parliament in the house of commons to defeat Mr. Farnell's motion on his amendment to the address.

Engineering Works Burned.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The engineering works at Boston, Lincolnshire, and belonging to the Great Northern Railway company, were totally destroyed by fire. Hundreds of hands are thrown out of work.

A Crash in Milan.

MILAN, Aug. 27.—Giovanni Sassi, professor of physics, discovered dead which will enable a panel to fast for three days to sixty days. He will make a trial in public.

Effects of the Bulgarian Troubles.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The bank of England rate of discount has been advanced to 3½ per cent.

REV. J. C. BEECHER SUICIDES.

A half brother of Rev. Henry Ward Beecher shoots himself with a rifle. ELMIRA, N. Y., Aug. 27.—The Rev. James C. Beecher, of Concord, Conn., half brother of Henry Ward Beecher, and Rev. Thomas K. Beecher of this city, committed suicide at the same time yesterday. They had run through the world with a sword rifle. He had been suffering under severe mental trouble for a number of years, and for a time was under treatment at the Middlesex asylum there. His brother here had been in care of a special attendant. At the time he appeared to be in pretty fair health and safety, day enjoyed himself with others in shooting at a target in Dr. Gleason's range. During the evening while conversing on the piano, however, he got drunk and taking a rifle, placed the muzzle in his mouth and fired, killing himself instantly.

Mr. Beecher was about fifty-five years of age and was the youngest son of Dr. Lyman Beecher, the famous Congregationalist from New Haven college and Andover Seminary. He was chaplain of the Seamen's Bethel, China, chaplain of the Brooklyn regiment during the war of the rebellion; became a colonel and was mustered out as a brevet brigadier general. Of late years he has lived on a farm in Ulster county.

Cancelling Mr. Matthews.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The Herald publishes an interview with the president concerning the reappointment of Mr. Matthews as recorder of deeds of the District of Columbia. In reply to a request to state the reason for his removal, he said: "I am not fit for it. If the Senate rejected Matthews by a party then one party did not rise to the importance of the occasion. It was a matter of very grave importance in which participation I could not afford to take. I was not apportioned that he had made careful inquiries about Matthews, and was assured that he was one of the most capable and intelligent of his race. He felt sure that the power would come to see that he was right in regarding it a judicious thing to recognize the Democratic colored people in that appointment."

Won't Be Discharged.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Allen Tress, a distributing clerk in the mailing division of the postoffice, who was discharged on Tuesday, has been reinstated. He says he has no influential friends in Washington and proposes to test his superior officer's right to discharge him, as he claims, without other cause than that he is a Republican. He has been in this office since August 1, 1871. He gives it out that he deserves some better reason than has been stated, and intends to find out about it.

Two Men Hung by a Mob.

VICKSBURG, Miss., Aug. 27.—It has just been learned that night before last an armed mob of negroes, led in rank by a man named Collins, who had been a slave at Magnolia, the state. They broke open the doors, meeting with only formal resistance, took out two colored men, John and Leander Nelson, and hanged them from a bridge on the edge of town. The negroes had been arraigned for the brutal assassination of a colored man named Collins. There was no question of their guilt.

Be Warned

In time, Kidney disease may be prevented by purifying, renewing, and invigorating the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. When, through debility, the action of the kidneys is perverted, these organs rob the blood of its needed constituent, albumin, which is passed off in the urine, while worn out matter, which they should carry off from the blood, is allowed to remain. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the kidneys are restored to proper action, and Albumin is prevented. Ayer's Sarsaparilla also prevents inflammation of the kidneys, and other disorders of these organs. Mrs. Jas. W. Reid, Forest Hill, J. Jamieson Flann, Mass., writes: "I have had a complication of disease, but my greatest trouble has been with my kidneys. For some time past I have been unable to eat my meals, and have been compelled to live on a diet of Ayer's Pills, for Liver troubles and Indigestion, a good many years, and have always found them prompt and efficient in their action." Richard Norris, Lynn, Mass., writes: "After much suffering, I have been cured of Dyspepsia and Indigestion by Dr. Ayer's Pills." Lydia, 19, Boston, Mass., writes: "I have had a complication of disease, but my greatest trouble has been with my kidneys.
